

Graduate Opportunities in Operations – Polish Speaker

Kerry Group, a world leader in food ingredients and a leading supplier of consumer foods is recruiting for its Graduate Programmes to start in July/August/September 2015.

Operations roles:

Kerry Group's multi-site production facilities offer Operations Graduates a dynamic environment in which to gain valuable experience running your own production line and being responsible for people management, raw materials, quality and costs. The pace is fast and within six months you could be in charge of your own production team.

Every day, a new set of challenges. Your area and plant equipment will need to be checked and tested. You will need to meet with your line manager to discuss staffing, efficiency and yield issues, all the while you will need to ensure your team knows exactly what is required and constantly monitor and motivate them.

Who we are looking for:

In fast-moving, ever-evolving markets like ours, we're looking to recruit ambitious graduates:

- genuinely excited and motivated by challenge and change
- who are keen to travel or relocate throughout their career
- genuinely passionate about the food industry
- with a 2:1 minimum degree in Business, Food production Management, Food Science, Engineering, Operations / Production Management, Process Control, Product Design and Manufacture or similar degree
- fluent in English and Polish

If you think you have what it takes to become a future leader in Kerry apply online at <http://www.kerrygraduates.com>

Applications close 31st January 2015.
